TEXTBOOK: Real Analysis and Foundations, Third Edition by Steven Krantz. ISBN-13: 978-1466587311

COURSE DESCRIPTION: The standard in analysis. What are the real numbers? We shall discover what is the reason (completeness) for the real numbers and use this to develop the Calculus. We shall study first the real numbers and their properties and basic topology including: completeness, the existence of a supremum and the metric definitions for open sets, closed sets and compact sets. We will continue developing the basic theory, learning the epsilon-delta definitions for limits, continuity, uniform continuity, derivatives and the Riemann definition of the integral.

COURSE OBJECTIVES: After successful completion the student should be able to prove and compute any variety of continuity, sequence, series and integral results. The student should also know the two fundamental theorems of Calculus as well as understand their proofs. Also, the student should be a competent proof writer.

COURSE EVALUATION & GRADING: Your grade for the course will be based on your homework/quiz performance (30%), one test (30%), and a comprehensive final exam (40%). The grading scale is as follows:

TUTORIAL: Drop-in tutorial is available in the mathematics learning center.

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH SPECIAL NEEDS:

If you have or suspect you may have a physical, psychological, medical or learning disability that may impact your course work, please contact Stacey DeFelice, Director, The Office of Services for Students with Disabilities (OSSD), NAB, 2065, Phone: 516-628-5666, Fax (516) 876-3005, TTD: (516) 876-3083. E-mail: defelices@oldwestbury.edu.

The office will help you determine if you qualify for accommodations and assist you with the process of accessing them. All support services are free and all contacts with the OSSD are strictly confidential. SUNY/Old Westbury is committed to assuring that all students have equal access to all learning activities and to social activities on campus.

FINAL EXAM: Will be held on Monday, May 15 at our usual class time in our usual classroom.
